Editor Note

I would like to introduce Global Media Journal to all the authors, readers and my fellow colleagues, which is an open access platform for the scholars, researchers, academicians and students of media and communication with a view to publish the most trending and innovative researches that explore media, society and culture in the wake of globalization.

It is a very exciting journey so far in the year 2020. All the articles in Volume 18, Issue 34 are published smoothly well within the time and we are coming with the next issue in July, 2020. The articles we received for our previous issue were highly informative in media science which encourage us to work more hard for our coming issues. The sole aim of Global Media Journal is to bring out the best researches and updates in media and communication field and we thrive for it in each single issue.

The COVID-19 pandemic has impacted every sector badly, but we pledge to focus more on this critical subject to educate our readers about it through our special issue "Role of Social Media in Spreading Awareness of Covid-19 Pandemic". The objectives of Global Media Journal are always to encourage the authors to produce high quality researches on various subjects like Journalism, Media Coverage, Broadcasting, Social media, Mass Media, Bulletin, Global Media Research, Mass Communication, Global Communication, Consumer culture, Political Economy, Foreign Policy, Social Movements, Public Opinion, Global Media Concentration, Globalization, Globalization of T.V genres, Consumer Culture, Media Entertainment, Structural Equation Modeling, Economic, etc.

The journal has already released 33 regular issues along with 5 special issues. We have published 15 high-quality articles in the previous issue and hope to continue the same trend in all the upcoming issues. The next issue will be released in July, 2020 with some exciting research, review and case series articles so I would expect from all our readers to make it a success as well like they have done for all our previous issues.

I take this opportunity to thank and express my gratitude to all the editors, reviewers, authors and readers for their association with us over the years and their support to bring yet another successful issue release. And I am hoping for their continuous support in the coming years as well.

I would also like to thank all my colleagues in the Editorial board for their hard work and support in bringing out the best from Global Media Journal throughout its journey.
